Peace Agreements & Homeland Security for Countries

The Peace Agreement between the United Arab Emirates and the State of Israel.

Peace Agreements Between accusations of treason and the interests of states . Since The US President announced the peace Agreement between the United Arab Emirates and the State of Israel.

And then the world rose between a supporter and an appraiser for that agreement and others accusing UAE of treason.Then the Middle East rose between a supporter and appraiser of that treaty and others accusing the UAE of treason.

A Western friend asked me for my personal opinion on this matter. Here, I will not respond in a personal capacity or as an Egyptian Arab Muslim, but rather my answers his question as a specialist

I will begin with the parties to the Agreement :

The United Arab Emirates has the full right to decide with whom to sign any agreements according to its interests and orientations. The leadership of the UAE long time ago has its own orientation towards playing an effective role at the regional and international level, for example the Yemeni dilemma. The Libyan dilemma and standing up against Iran, in addition to the differences with Qatar and Turkey all the before mentioned are coming under homeland security the UAE are worried of Iran's proxy forces haughty threaten its borders .

In light of the Turkish-Iranian Qatari alliance present in the Gulf region, it is natural for the UAE to take security & political countermeasures that protect its interests, especially as this alliance is openly directed against it.

The most important point, which is announced in the terms of the agreement, is at the request of President Trump and with the support of the UAE, Israel will stop the plan to annex Palestinian lands in accordance with Trump's peace plan.

Even if this point is temporary or postponed for a period, I think it will be long. For a simple reason that Netanyahu's government will not risk abandoning this agreement anytime soon.

There are two other important aspects in this agreement: investment cooperation, as it is known that the UAE is a financially strong country that can always make successful investments, which will benefit Israel.

On the other hand, Israeli companies will be able to enter the UAE market to sell Israeli technology, especially security technology.

The most important part is the upheaval of the security equation in the Gulf. The presence of an Israeli embassy on the shores of the Gulf will be a deterrent factor for Iran and its allies in the Gulf.

Reactions objecting to the Agreement :

I see it "as a reactions out of the personal interests of the objectors. its is an objection to the next steps that may diminish the role of some. Or it will reveal their hidden moves for the sake of continuing the status of no peace and no agreements.

I will review some of these objectors:

Hamas:The terrorist criminal organization that kidnapped Gaza Strip and also a military wing of the Muslim Brotherhood terrorist group is currently under the cloak of Iran, Turkey, and Qatar. And before it was under the mantle of the Syrian regime.

It is an organization that offers its services to those who pay the most. Loyalty to those who pay millions of dollars in cash first. Thus, it lost Emirati support, whether political or financial, as a result of its position in support of the enemies of the Emirates.

The presence of Hamas in Yemen, with the support of Iran and its alliance with the Houthis, represents a threat to the UAE national security.

The political office of the Houthi group" Ansar Allah", said its readiness to conduct an exchange of jihadist prisoners from Hamas in the prisons of the Saudi regime with Saudi pilots and a number of other Saudi soldiers, according to the initiative of the leader, Abdul-Malik Al-Houthi. The matter may extend to dealing with the UAE in the same way

The Palestinian presidency call this agreement as a 'Betrayal of Jerusalem'

Rejected the normalization agreement between the UAE and Israel, considering it a "betrayal of Jerusalem," according to what AFP reported. It also called for a meeting of the League of Arab States. Nabil Abu Rudeineh, a spokesman for the Palestinian presidency, confirmed in a televised statement on state television that the agreement "undermined the Arab peace initiative," which is "a betrayal of Jerusalem and Al-Aqsa, the decisions of the Arab and Islamic summits, international legitimacy, and an aggression against the Palestinian people."

In the context, the Palestinian Ministry of Foreign Affairs decided Thursday to summon the Palestinian ambassador to the UAE immediately after announcing an agreement to normalize relations between the UAE and Israel, which the Palestinian presidency considered "treason."

In an official statement, Palestinian Foreign Minister' Riyad Al-Maliki' announced, "Based on the instructions of President Mahmoud Abbas, President of the State of Palestine, and following the American-Israeli-Emirati trilateral statement to normalize Israeli-Emirati relations, the Palestinian ambassador was summoned from the UAE and immediately."

The Palestinian Fatah and Hamas movements pledged on Thursday "unity" against Israel's plan to annex parts of the occupied West Bank, in a joint press conference after a long break between them.

"We will work to develop all mechanisms that achieve national unity," said the Secretary of the Fatah Central Committee, Major General Jibril Rajoub. "Today is the day of Palestinian unity, and we want to speak with one voice," said Saleh al-Aroui, deputy head of the political bureau of Hamas.

Such calls from the Palestinian Authority and Hamas to distribute accusations of treason towards the UAE from a security perspective are nothing but calls for Hamas members scattered around the world to attack and retaliate against Emirati interests in different countries. This is what I personally expect, based on what happened in the period when Egypt signed the peace agreement with Israel. Many kidnappings and bombings occurred during that period.

UAE homeland security authorisation has to be aware of such actions might happened soon .

Turkey - Erdogan:"Erdogan announced that Turkey may freeze its relations with the UAE against the background of the agreement with Israel."

I think that Erdogan's statement is nothing but a hasty reaction as usual from the unexpected shock of the news due to the state of secrecy that accompanied the announcement of that agreement .

I think, the last person entitled to talk about that treaty is Erdogan, as he did not leave any opportunity to sign any treaty , whether it was legal or not.

The strange thing is that Israel's relations with Turkey are distinguished for a long time, and Erdogan has no right to interfere in the relations of countries with each other. We also know very well that Erdogan's statements against Israel are nothing but media blasts in order to obtain the image of the Islamic hero who defends the rights of Islam and Muslims. As for the truth, it is quite the opposite.

Here, I borrowed the statement of the Israeli Minister of Economy" Eli Cohen", he threaten Erdogan and Turkey with the necessity to refrain from double dealing with Israel between the practical position and the verbal position: "With great respect for Erdogan, but he cannot enjoy the best of both worlds in his relationship with Israel," referring to him to the duplication. And the contradiction between Turkey's words and actions.

I will give the example of the treaty between Egypt and Israel.

Which met with objections from many countries in the Middle East. Egypt was attacked and boycotted for 10 years. Egypt has been accused of treason by most of the Arab countries , Then the years proved that the brave & strong peace between Egypt and Israel had succeeded

The positions of the Arab rulers that time towards Camp David were publicly rejected and accepted in closed sessions

{The peace agreement between Egypt and Israel caused a shock to the leaders of the Arab countries and the Arab street, which took an exciting decision to announce the boycott of Egypt, which was known for its Arabism during the days of Abdel Nasser, suspend its membership and move its headquarters from Cairo to Tunis.

The Arab countries held a conference in Baghdad in 1978, specifically in November, in the presence of 10 countries that decided to reject the agreement and boycott Egypt, except for Oman, Somalia and Sudan. The so-called "rejection front" was formed under the leadership of Iraq, and the headquarters of the Arab League was moved from Cairo to Tunis. Days after the boycott of Egypt, the Tunis summit was held, to confirm the continuation of the boycott, the suspension of Egypt's membership in the Arab League, and the appointment of El-Shazly Al-Qalibi, as the first non-Egyptian Secretary General of the League.

The boycott included Egyptian products, companies and individuals dealing with "Israel", the suspension of flights, and the prevention of financial aid planned for Egypt after the 1973 war. Saudi Arabia refused to finance an American aircraft deal to Egypt, and the partnership of Saudi Arabia, Qatar and the Emirates with the Arab Organization for Industrialization project, which was supposed to be based on The land of Egypt.}{1}

The "secret documents" released by the US State Department regarding the Camp David treaty and peace negotiations between Egypt and the "Israeli occupation" state revealed the reluctance of some Arab powers to openly support the negotiations at the time, so they turned to support them secretly, contrary to their stated position, in order to preserve its internal image in front of its people, especially since this stage was witnessing a state of popular rejection of any peace negotiations with the "occupation state" that did not include the rest of the Arab lands.

The documents revealed that Palestinian parties are convinced of the Egyptian approach, and that it is better to negotiate and obtain the maximum possible concessions and come up with the least losses. This trend was confirmed by one of the telegrams issued on September 7, 1978, in which it was stated that Moshe Dayan, the Minister of Foreign Affairs of the Occupation, met with some Palestinian leaders Supporters of negotiations with the Israelis, and US Secretary of State Cyrus Vance referred to this matter, who said that he discussed the same point with his Egyptian counterpart, Mohamed Ibrahim Kamel, who confirmed that if Camp David came out with a good agreement; Palestine and the Arabs will join the negotiations

In contrast to Washington's endeavor to ensure the support of the most important regional parties to the Camp David agreement, it also wanted to attract Jordan and Syria to this matter. For example, the "documents" indicated the reluctance of the late Jordanian monarch King Hussein to define his position on the negotiations, and the documents issued by the US State Department included a letter from the

“The American general consulate in Jerusalem to the State Department in Washington, in which Harold Sanders, Assistant Secretary of State of the United States, said that the Jordanian monarch is ready to participate in the peace negotiations, but feels that he does not have any Arab support, and despite this he assured the United States that he will encourage his friends and supporters in the West Bank to Support the negotiations, and that it will focus mainly on the part related to the West Bank in the Camp David Accords.

The bottom line :

The Middle East is changing. Many countries no longer believe in the theories of resistance imposed on them by some regimes that adopt such theories to protect their own interests.

Egypt is the first Arab country to sign a treaty with Israel. Then Jordan followed, and even the Palestinians signed two peace treaties, the Oslo Accords, and the second, the Gaza-Jericho agreement. Through them, Hamas was present in Gaza and the Palestinian Authority in the West Bank.

About what treachery the UAE did by announcing the signing of a peace agreement with Israel. It is no secret that many of the objectors has secret relations, talks and visits with Israel for long periods , So there is no need for bids

Finally, I congratulate the UAE and the State of Israel for this step, tantamount to throwing a stone into stagnant water. Out of the ordinary. Peace is the future of peoples.

Here I borrowed Sadat's words in front of the Israeli Knesset:

"Peace be upon you and the mercy of God, and peace be upon us all, God willing, peace be for all of us on Arab land and in Israel, and everywhere in the land of this great world, complicated by its bloody conflicts, disturbed by its sharp contradictions, threatened from time to time by devastating wars, those made by man , To destroy his brother man .. and in the end, between the rubble of what man has built, and the remains of the victims of the human beings, so there is neither a conqueror nor a loser, but the true vanquished is always man, the finest that God created. The human being created by God, Gandhi 'sthe saint of peace,Said (in order to seek at his feet, build life, and worship God'}
